

Innovation. Impact. Opportunity.

Cornell engineering students are full of great ideas, but commercializing them into successful solutions requires more than technical expertise. The Kessler Fellows Program gives selected students the business savvy they need to make a difference. Kessler Fellows get help finding well-paid summer internships at entrepreneurial startups and innovative companies, a $2,000 prize, and a substantial reduction in their loans during senior year for financial aid recipients.

Juniors in Fall 2008 are eligible to apply.

More information for students interested in applying and for companies interested in participating is available online.

www.engineering.cornell.edu/kessler